

Happy New Year!

Hard to believe, another year has come and gone. It has been a year full of promise, hard work , challenges, and opportunity's to serve. The stuff life is made of!

I wish to thank all my customers, clients, advocates,suppliers and associates for the best year ever!!!!!!

I could not have done it without you!

As I reflect on my life this holiday season, I am humbly reminded that I have been greatly blessed with many great personal and business relationship's. I have to say that God has been very good to me, my family, my clients, and my business.

I wish to thank each and every one of you, for many things.

Top of the list is the relationship that we have developed over the last year. For many this is just another year added to over a decade of service that I have provided. 13 years in business has taught me a lot, and I have lots to learn still. Not every thing is perfect, but it is that constant striving to serve that drives me, and moulds my practice.

For other's this is your first year of working with me. You have most likely been referred to me by a friend, family, or business colleague. That has always been the basis of my business growth. It is my prayer that there will be many more years. I have always tried to take a long term approach to my business. If this is our first year, I hope I have met your expectations, and if I have not, I am eager to improve our relationship. So many of you are so interconnected because of our referral history, I feel I have a responsibility to do my best, and if I have let someone down, I desire to fix it, we are in this together, I feel like it's almost one big family at time's!

For others who are considering working with me in the future, it is my hope that you will see the value of your potential association. Many have come to know the value of working with me, the multiple services that we provide has helped many achieve their goals and helped develop plan's to maximize their potential, ensuring that what really matters is well taken care of. I can assure you that you will never find another advisor who care's as much about you and your family as I will.

For those of you who provide service to me & my clients, I thank you for your on going support, integrity, and guidance during the year. It's been a year of challenges, change and lots of change! But the bottom line, has always got to be, "Always do what's best for the client". There is no other way!

Well, I could go on and on, better bring this to a close. Thank You again, couldn't have done it without you. Looking forward to another great year of service.

PS: Hope you like the picture of my family. We (Tim, Kim, Lisa, Sara, Chelsie, Alex, and Meranda) Thank You and wish you and yours a Very Joyful, Prosperous, Blessed , and Happy New Year!!
